

Privacy Issues for BDBDB5

Agreement on the Use of Personal Data (to be signed during registration)

The registration form requests the following personal data: Title, name, affiliation, phone and fax number, email.

This data is needed by HITS gGmbH for organizational purposes and for creating accompanying material for the BDBDB5 conference. This includes an abstract book as well as a list of participants. The list of participants distributed will contain: Title, name, organization and email. The list of participants is collected and distributed to facilitate the exchange between the conference participants.

I agree that HITS can use my contact details for organizing follow-up conferences.

Video or audio recordings might be performed during the conference and published via the internet (conference website, YouTube etc.). Speakers of talks that will be recorded are asked for a written agreement send via email or fax before the conference.

I am informed that I can request the deletion of my personal data at any time (except for data that is legally required) unless the data is printed and distributed, like the list of participants or abstract book. If you do not want to be included in these, please let us know well in advance before the conference starts.

By submitting the data form to the BDBDB5 organizers I agree with the facts above.

For all other data protection related information, please have a look at our data protection website: <https://www.h-its.org/privacy/>
